

SAKIP SABANCI COMPUTER CENTER (BİLMER)

BİLMER, which is the biggest computer center in Turkey connected with a fiber optic network up to 100 km, gives internet service to 2,000 students at the same time. The computers used by students for many purposes such as internet, program development, study, and research also enable them to install software related with the lectures and to study easily. The entry and exit points of the Computer Center are controlled; students show their identity cards to card readers, and receive computer and internet service for an entry fee of 1 TL for the whole day. There are 5 'technology classes' used for education and courses in the Computer Center. Apart from this, courses are given at certain periods, software and projects aimed at university and industry are developed and similar to these, many researches and developments are conducted in the center.
