Aşağıdaki soruları parçaya göre cevaplayınız.

Whether you're wondering what colour to paint the office, or you're looking to redesign your factory, the colours you choose can help you save money. Colour greatly influences human emotion and behaviour. The colour of a wall can actually change how a person feels the temperature. According to Mrs. Augustin, an environmental psychologist, warm colours, such as orange, red and yellow can cause people to think the temperature in the room is warmer than it actually is. Cool colours, such as blue, green and light purple cause people to think the temperature is colder.

Business owners can use this to their advantage by saving on heating and cooling costs. For example, if you live in a cold environment, painting an entryway a warm colour may cause people to think your office is a few degrees warmer than actually is. This may allow you to keep the temperature at a slightly lower setting.

10. Which is TRUE according to the passage?

- A) Painting places in red helps people feel the exact temperature of the place.
- B) Mrs. Augustin is an environmental engineer who thinks colours don't affect human behaviour.
- C) To save money in places in cold environment, people should use light purple or green for painting.
- D) Warm colours make us think that a room is warmer than it really is.
